TRANSLATION OF THE GENERAL BOND.

The Congress of the Argentine Republic by Laws, of which extracts are given below, has authorised the Executive to contract an external Loan in 5 per cent. Bonds, with an accumulative sinking fund of 1 per cent. per annum, for a sum total of 8,571,000 national piastres.

Extract of the Law of 12th October, 1882.

NATIONAL BANK.

"Art. 5. There shall be created a public debt of 8,571,000 national piastres, paying 5 per cent. per annum, with a cumulative sinking fund of 1 per cent. per annum operating by drawings by lot, in order to pay for the Shares of the National Bank (60,000 shares subscribed by the Government)."

"Art. 16. The service of the public debt created by the present law shall be defrayed out of the general revenues of the country, and shall be recouped by the dividends to be paid upon the shares."

Extract of the Law of 28th June, 1883.

NATIONAL BANK.

"Art. 1. The Loan of 8,571,000 national piastres in 5 per cent. Bonds, with 1 per cent. sinking fund, authorised by the Law of the 12th October, 1882, is declared External Debt."

Wherefore His Excellency Lieut.-General Don Julio A. Roca, President of the Argentine Republic, has given under date of the 7th July, 1883, plenary powers to His Excellency Don Mariano Balcarce, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Argentine Republic in France, to treat definitely for the conditions of the Loan of $8,571,000 above mentioned.

Witness these presents, that in virtue of the said powers his Excellency, Don Mariano Balcarce, binds the Argentine Republic and the Government thereof to observe and fulfil the following conditions:—

1. There shall be created a nominal capital of £1,714,200, or fcs. 42,855,000, in Bonds of the Argentine Republic, payable to bearer for the sum of £20 sterling, or fcs. 500 French gold currency each. Bonds may be delivered for 5 or 25 obligations. Repayments amounting to £31,100, since the creation of the Loan reduce the Bonds to be put in circulation to a capital of £1,683,100, or fcs. 42,077,500.

2. The bonds shall bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable every three months, and quarterly Coupons shall be attached, each for 5s., or fcs. 6.25, for each Bond of £20, maturing the 1st January, 1st April, 1st July and 1st October in each year.

3. The Bonds will be redeemable at £20, or fcs. 500, French gold currency, by means of an accumulative sinking fund calculated to extinguish the whole of the debt by quarterly payments on the 1st January, 1st April, 1st July and 1st October in each year.

The first repayment will take place on the 1st October, 1884, and the last on the 1st January, 1919.

4. The National Government shall remit, each quarter, to the Banque de Paris & des Pays Bas, or to Messrs. Baring Brothers & Co., the sum in pounds sterling necessary for the payment of the Coupons and drawn Bonds in such a manner that the whole of the funds shall on each occasion be in the hands of the Banque de Paris & des Pays Bas, or of Messrs. Baring Brothers & Co, one month before the maturity of the Coupon.

5. The drawings by lot for the redemption of the Bonds shall take place quarterly, one month before the due date of each Coupon, viz., on the 1st March, 1st June, 1st September and 1st December in each year, or, in case of public holiday, on the first working day following, at the Counting House of the Banque de Paris & des Pays Bas in Paris, in presence of a person specially delegated for this purpose by the National Government, and under the direction of the manager of the said bank or his representative.

6. The numbers of the Bonds drawn shall be published in a newspaper in London, and in another in Paris.

7. The repayment of the drawn Bonds shall take place at the same time as the payment of the Coupons maturing immediately after the drawing, viz., on the 1st January, 1st April, 1st July and 1st October in each year, and from such date all interest on the drawn Bonds shall cease.

8. Every drawn Bond when presented for payment must have attached all the Coupons not due at the date fixed for the repayment, and the amount of any such Coupons which may be missing shall be deducted from the capital when paid.

9. The drawn Bonds and Coupons shall be payable at the option of the holder in French gold currency in Paris, at the Banque de Paris & des Pays Bas, and at the Comptoir d'Escompte de Paris, and in London in pounds sterling, at the counting-house of Messrs. Baring Brothers & Co, which fact shall be stated on the Bonds and on the Coupons.

10. Any Coupons not presented within five years of the time when they fall due shall cease to be payable in London and Paris, and the holders shall address themselves direct to the National Government at Buenos Ayres. The capital of the drawn Bonds shall be payable at all times in London and Paris.

11. The Coupons and drawn Bonds when paid shall be cancelled and held at the disposal of the National Government.

12. The payment of the Coupons and the re-imbursement of the Bonds shall be at all times free of all taxes (the National Government formally engaging to provide for any tax, of whatever nature it may be, to which the said Coupons and Bonds may hereafter become liable in the Argentine Republic) and shall be effected in time of war as in time of peace irrespective of the nationality of the bearer, be he the subject of a friendly or of a hostile State.

13. On the death of a holder of any Bonds of the present Loan, the same shall be transmitted and belong to his heirs, in conformity with the laws of succession in force in the country of which the deceased was a subject.

14. The Bonds shall be signed by the Minister of the Argentine Republic in France, or some other person specially authorised by him for that purpose.

15. Should any Bonds or Coupons of the present Loan happen to be destroyed by any cause whatsoever, the National Government undertakes to deliver to the proprietors new Bonds and new Coupons on reimbursement of the expenses incurred in replacing them, after sufficient proofs shall have been adduced of the loss of the Bonds and of the rights of the claimant, and after all the legal formalities shall have been fulfilled.

In witness whereof His Excellency Don Mariano Balcarce hath hereunto set his hand and seal in Paris this 24th day of March, 1884.

To Minister Plenipotentiary of the Argentine Republic.

(Signed) M. Balcarce.

THE IRISH ORPHANAGE.

It is again our unpleasant duty to call attention to what is fast becoming of regular periodical occurrence, viz, the Irish Orphanage is again in debt, and urgently requires a little assistance until the organization for collecting funds is arranged. That this assistance is very badly required may be judged from the fact that the receipts for the present month, up to date, are only $3,000 %, against an expenditure of $20,000.

That the help required to support the fatherless little ones, of whom the good Sisters of the Sacred Heart take such loving care, will be at once forthcoming we have no manner of doubt; but the oft-recurring question will be again put—is there no way to prevent these repeated deficits in the Orphanage Treasury?

Beyond doubt there is, and a simple one. Our countrymen in the camp—including many generous Englishmen and Scots—are both wealthy and willing to help this excellent institution which has done so much good, and could do so much more if it could count on the contributions towards its support flowing in more regularly, instead of by fits and starts. All required is effective organization in town and camp to collect the funds which its supporters are so willing to give. A small sum collected monthly from each contributor would better avail the institution than larger amounts given as donations at uncertain dates. We trust that no further time will be lost, and that an organized system of collection will be forthwith set on foot, to save one of our best charitable institutions from the necessity of periodical appeals that reflect no credit on our nationality, and which, by creating the impression that it is not adequately supported, greatly impair its usefulness. There is no more shining or privileged charity than that which feeds, clothes and instructs the Orphan.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent).

EGYPT.

March 27th.

The great event of the week, in regard to Eyptian affairs, has been the receipt of a long letter by the Times, from its correspondent at Khartoum. The date of the letter is March 14th. Mr. Power, or whoever the correspondent may be, gives an account of his interview with General Gordon the previous eveniag, who announced his intention of attacking the rebels the following day. On that morning the correspondent sends another telegram, via Berber, and is enabled to give an account of a very successful expedition, consisting of 1,200 men with three steamers, which had started down the river to relieve a beleagured garrison of native troops, called Chaggias, who were in a place named Halifiyeb. The steamers were temporarily armoured with boiler plates, and carried mountain guns protected by wooden mantlets. The troops were concealed in the holds and in large iron barges, to protect them from the entrenched Arab marksmen on the banks, who, owing to the lowness of the Nile, commanded the river.

Amidst the greatest rejoicings ever known at Khartoum, the steamers and barges came back, having rescued the five hundred soldiers of the Halifiyeb garrison.

In one part of a long letter, in which the correspondent tells us what is going on at Khartoum, and of General Gordon's opinions and military arrangements he says—"If General Gordon succeeds in extricating the garrison of Halifiyeb, that is about all he can do before an English relieving force arrives." He also adds—"In order to prevent anxiety in England, if postal communication be stopped, I may say there is no danger of Khartoum itself falling."

I am sorry to say, that since the receipt of Mr. Power's letter we have heard that Khartoum is surrounded by 6,000 Arabs, who are in command of the river approaches, and that the wires to Berber, via Shendy, were cut, and the veil once more closes around Khartoum, and conceals General Gordon from the anxious gaze of Europe.

Last night, when the irrepressible Mr. Ashmead Bartlett asked if there were any news of Gordon, Lord Hartington, in a petulant manner, answered "no." "If anything happens to Gordon," say the Conservatives, "the Government will not last 24 hours." I do not quite see that. Gordon, at the eleventh hour, was consulted by the Government, and he volunteered to go to Khartoum, having an almost superstitious faith in his own powers in dealing with the Soudanese. That faith may still be justified, and we hope it may; but, so far, his mission has decidedly failed. Gorden has discovered, like many others, that in the Soudan, as elsewhere, in the course of a few years, people, things and places change. He complains that through the defeat of Hicks Pasha he has lost all his old men who could have been of use to him, and he can find no one now to trust with the administration.

The remark in the letter about an "English relieving force," at first staggered every one, as it seemed as if General Gordon had asked for assistance, and that either the request had not passed safely through the wires, or that the Government had kept it secret. From the explanations given in Parliament, it would appear that General Gordon had not asked for military aid, and had not thought of doing so. The idea is ascribed to Mr. Power's private views.

Colonel Coetlogon, who has arrived in Cairo, says that at this time of the year to send British troops to Khartoum would be simply impossible. In any case it would require, under existing circumstances, a very large force. Why, even the 75th and 60th in marching yesterday some ten or eleven miles beyond Souakim, lost seventy men between them; not that the men were killed by sunstroke, but they dropped out of the ranks through exhaustion. One report puts it at 400 men who from the whole force fell out. Most of them have since rejoined.

The news from Souakim, however, I leave until to-morrow night. It suffices to say, that at the moment I write the troops may be again engaged, as they have been moved towards Osman's camp; but it is impossible to satisfy oneself as to the real state of affairs there, as one moment we are told Osman Digna has fled and has been abandoned by all his followers, and the next moment we are told he has 1,000 men with him and intends to fight.

The road to Berber seems pretty safe, and the Suakim business resolves into the question whether we shall send troops, or cavalry at least, to keep the road open for the fugitive garrisons in the interior, should they get as far as Berber.

The foreign and general military opinion seems to be, that it would be useless to send troops to Berber from Souakim, unless they were supported by a force from the Wadi Halfa and Assouan.

Besides the military business, which looks more useless every day, there is the financial condition of Egypt to occupy the thoughts of the invalid guest of Sir Donald Currie, at Coombe Warren. The deficit is calculated to be £1,200,000. To cover this many schemes are suggested, such as appropriating the sinking fund, which would give £400,000, the reduction of expenditure and the taxation of foreigners, which would give another £5 00,00 or £600,000. There is always the question of modifying the law of liquidation and reducing the rate of interest on the Suez Canal shares, &c., but there are a great many nationalities to consult in taxing coupons and in any such arrangements; and, perhaps, the end of it will be that John Bull will advance two or three millions on the security of being "in possession," and on the faith of the Radicals and Mr. Gladstone not being in power when the time comes to foreclose. That is to say, we shall probably guarantee a reduced rate of interest as well as a loan. Egypt will be put in pawn to Sir Nathaniel and the loan-mongers, who, out of the sweat of the fellaheen, have already been paid principal and interest two years ago, according to Mr. Keay's calculations, in the last edition of his pamphlet,

A money-changer's business the whole question has been from the beginning, and disreputable to both parties in the State, for both are equally culpable, and both are of one party in face of the newer light now dawning.

THE LATE DUKE OF ALBANY

London, March 29th.

The Duke of Albany left Esher for Cannes some time since in order to escape the east wind of an English March. His Royal Highness visited the Marquess of Londonderry in January, returning south in the beginning of February. His Royal Highness took part in an amateur concert at Esher on the 15th of February, held in aid of the village national schools. He sang Clay's "Sands of Dee" with great effect, and, in response to a vigorous encore sang another song. The concert was a great success. On the 5th of February he attended the Bachelors' Hunt Ball at Dorking, an occasion which was noticed at the time, from the fact that some one flung a pot of beer or water at his head on entering his carriage after the ball. The town was illuminated in honour of the Royal visit, and the Volunteer Fire Brigade formed a triumphal arch with their fire escapes.

As recently as the day before yesterday the report appeared that the Duke of Albany, looking remarkably well, was present at the Bachelors' Ball at Nice, given in the rooms of the Mediterranean Club, by a committee of gentlemen, of which his Royal Highness was president.

Prince Leopold George Duncan Albert, Duke of Albany, was the fourth son of the Queen. His Royal Highness was born on April 7th, 1853, and was married on April 27, 1882, to Princess Helen Frederica Augusta, of Waldeck and Pyrmont. His second title was Earl of Clarence. He was also Baron Arklow, Prince of Saxe-Coburg Gotha, and Duke of Saxony, an Elder Brother of the Trinity House, President of the Royal Society of Literature, and a colonel in the army.

His late Royal Highness's occupations were of a less stirring kind than those of his Royal brothers. His wishes were from the first for study, and he showed a high capacity for distinction in letters and in science. His public speeches and addresses testify to his keen sympathy with the special intellectual developments of the times. Possessing in common with his brothers the love of music, a taste which has descended to each of them from the Prince Consort, the Duke of Albany proved that he was also endowed with literary aptitudes peculiarly his own. He was not, however, a mere recluse of the library; he played an active part in the higher life of the English people. He assisted at meetings held for the advancement of literature, science, and art, and presided at the opening of institutions founded to promote their extension. Whatever was alloted to him to do was done with care, with thoroughness, and with unfeigned interest. His standard of duty was high, and his whole heart lay in its performance. He consequently acquired a reputation as distinct, and as appreciated in the eyes of the nation as that which belongs to the Prince of Wales, to Prince Alfred, or to Prince Arthur.

He was a very affectionate son, husband, and father. Soon after his marriage he wrote to a lady at whose house he had failed to keep an engagement, and apologised for his forgetfulness by saying that he was too much in love to think of anything else. The Queen herself relied much on his judgment, and constantly sought his counsel and advice.

The Duke was fond of literary society, and liked to get eminent authors around him; and to talk with them about books and writers. It was his custom to ask at a party to be made known to any man of letters who might be present. He would sometimes seek special introduction to an author whose book he had read with pleasure. We believe, for example, that on reading Mr James Payn's story, "A Perfect Treasure," he asked to be introduced to the writer, and afterwards found much occasional amusement in his company. He had a very keen appreciation of humour, and laughed heartily at a good story. His secretary and doctor could record many comments of much point, and showing serious thought. His ill-health was an occasional cause of melancholy observation. On one occasion an eminent literary man and a member of the House of Lords were talking with him when the conversation turned on what gave the best chance of happy life. The literary man said that persons in a middle position who were without ambitions they could not satisfy were in the happiest state. The conversation went on, and one of the speakers said to the Duke that his own position must be a happy one. "You forget," he said, "I am worst off of all. I want the chief thing. It is health—health—health." His political views were strongly Conservative, but he was reserved in his expression of them, and in no way resented the utterance of the most opposite opinion. He was extremely fond of music, and was, we believe, himself a performer on various instruments. He had, too, a passion for whist, and was a fairly good player.

The Queen showed her pride and satisfaction in her son by showering honours upon him. He became successively a Knight of the Garter, a Knight of the Thistle, a Knight Grand Commander of the Star of India, and a Knight Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George. Notless than all these the Prince valued the honours of D.C.L. conferred upon him by his University in 1876. But more than all he prized the good opinion of his fellow citizens and the hearty welcome with which he was everywhere received when he came among them to show how earnest was his desire to make life easier and brighter and fuller to those whose tasks were heaviest, and enjoyments the most scanty. His last appearances in England were all of this kind, not the least noticeable being one in which he pleaded eloquently in favour of providing simple but refined amusements for the people, who had so little chance of tasting any of the pleasure that make life sweet to the toilworn and weary. Down to the time he left England, a few weeks ago, the Prince had shown unusual energy in meeting the public demands upon his attention in various parts of the country. He was always ready to help, not only away from home, but also in the immediate neighbourhood of his residence at Claremont. Just before he left England he sang (15th February) "The sands of Dee" in an amateur concert at Esher in aid of the Funds of the National School there.

The Prince of Wales arrived at Euston Station at ten o'clock by special train from Liverpool, which town he left at 6.20—a run of remarkable speed. Immediately upon his Royal Highness receiving the news of his brother's death he made arrangements for the special train. On arriving at Marlborough House he found General Sir Henry Ponsonby awaiting him with her Majesty's commands. He also here obtained more detailed news of the sad event. He learned that the Duke of Albany fell on the steps of the club at Cannes at half-past six yesterday evening, but he was well enough subsequently to telegraph to the Duchess to say he had had a fall, and to warn her that he might not be able to fulfil his intention of returning home to-day to England. Shortly after this he became unconscious, and he remained in this condition until he died at 2 a.m. The Duke fell on his head, and the doctors cannot quite make out whether death was caused by concussion, or was merely accelerated thereby. His Royal Highness had in previous years been subject to attacks of faintness, but latterly these had been much rarer. As is well known the Duke was slightly lame.

The remains of the Duke will be entombed the latter end of next week, at the Royal Mausoleum, Frogmore, in the same chapel in which lies the body of his father, Prince Albert. Several telegrams from Ambassadors were received throughout the afternoon, conveying on behalf of their Governments sympathy with her Majesty in her bereavement. The Emperors of Germany and Russia have also telegraphed to the Queen in most kind and sympathetic words. The Prince of Waldeck-Pyrmont, father of the Duchess of Albany, is expected to come over as soon as possible, he having been informed of the sad event as soon as the news reached Windsor Castle. To-day all the Ambassadors representing foreign nations in London are expected at the Castle to offer their sympathy in person; but her Majesty will not see any one except her immediate family.

CONCLUSION OF THE SOUDAN CAMPAIGN.

Souakim, March 28th.

To-day at a meeting between Admiral Hewett, General Graham, and twelve Arab Sheiks, the last-named expressed an opinion that the rebel tribes are ready to submit, and that the Berber route is safe.

One of these Sheiks fought against us at El Teb and Tamai.

The 65th, the 89th, and the 10th Hussars and mounted infantry will embark to-morrow.

Your Correspondent at Massowah writes me that King John is preparing with a following of nearly 25,000 men to welcome Admiral Hewett, who will present the Queen's letter to his Majesty. Ras Aloula, the Prime Minister, will meet Admiral Hewett at Adytiklai, and conduct the English mission to Adowa or Makaleh, where the King will be in waiting. Major Haggart, Inspector of the Fortresses, left Massowah for Sanheit on the 26th inst.

We have received the following telegram from the War Office:

From Major-General Sir G Graham to the Secretary of State for War.

(Telegram.)

Souakim, March 28, 7 a.m.

Arrived here with staff and cavalry last night. Infantry bivouacked at advanced zeriba 17 miles to front, excepting York and Lancaster, left in near zeriba, 10 miles to front; whole move at daybreak this morning towards Souakim. Sun powerful, but there is a fresh north breeze which blows in the men's faces returning, and makes heat endurable. Officers commanding brigades, acting on medical reports, will keep all weakly men at nearest zeriba for to-night. Orders have been given for frequent and long halts, and plenty of water will be taken.

Cairo, 28th.

There is no news from Khartoum, and the excitement is increasing.

A meeting was held to-day at Shepheard's Home for freed women slaves at Cairo, at which Sir Evelyn Baring presided. A resolution was passed expressing the necessity for establishing a Home here. Lord Houghton, Nubar Pacha, and others supported the scheme.

The services of all the European officers of gendarmerie, excepting the English, have been dispensed with.

Abdel Kader Pacha has been appointed Minister of the Interior.

Telegraphic communication is again interrupted between Berber and Shendy. The rebels are threatening the communications between Korosko and Abu Hamed.—Daily News.

THE REPORTER'S GALLERY.

Among the Agencies that minister to the intelligence of the nation that of Parliamentary reporting occupies an important place. To it undoubtedly we owe much of our freedom and good government. Informing the public mind, arousing public opinion, this in its turn reacting upon the work of the Imperial Legislature itself, its wide-reaching influence could be fully appreciated only by experiencing a sudden and prolouged arrest put upon the unfettered liberty in this regard which we enjoy. In no far-fetched sense the function of the Parliamentary reporter may be described as the nerves of the political organism, along which the action of the heart pulsates to the extremities of the Empire. If our Government stands at the head of the free Constitutions of the world, if in this much-loved isle we see that

"Freedom broadens slowly down
"From precedent to precedent,"

one might make bold to say that we owe it in no small degree to the manner in which the people are kept abreast of the proceedings of its governors through the instrument of Parliamentary reporting. The story of its progress and development would, adequately treated, form not the least interesting and suggestive chapter in our political history.

It is little more than 100 years since the liberty to report its proceedings was wrung from an unwilling Parliament, or rather since the Parliament submitted to the inevitable after a severe struggle. Five-and-thirty or 40 years before that time, indeed, the Gentleman's Magazine gave reports of the debates, but they were scrappy and meagre, and their accuracy dubious. By the embargo placed upon the printing of debates many an eloquent speech has doubtless been lost to posterity; Pitt once offered to give up all the books of Livy for the lost speeches of Bolingbroke. The reporting for the Gentleman's Magazine was accomplished thus. Cave, the publisher, and a friend or two, found means to procure admission into the gallery of the House of Commons, or to some shady corner in the other House, and there they privately took down notes of the speeches and the general drift and substance of the arguments. With notebooks full and memories stored, Cave and his associates would then adjourn to a neighbouring tavern and compare and adjust their notes, which were afterwards written out—never during the same session—by some abler hand, with the assistance of such descriptive hints as they could supply. Even so the publisher was in the habit of printing only the initial letter of the hon. member's name, sometimes not even so much. By and by he grew bolder and inserted the names in full. Parliament promptly took alarm. "What will be the consequence," asked Sir Thomas Winnington, "if you allow these reports to go unchecked? You will have the speeches of this House every day printed, even during your session, and we shall be looked upon as the most contemptible Assembly on the face of the earth." A solemn resolution was forthwith passed, utterly forbidding the continuance of the practice under penalties. Nevertheless, under various thin disguises, the practice did continue. It was for Cave that Dr. Johnson used to write Parliamentary reports. The speaker might be a man of the oratorical calibre of Mr. Biggar or Lord Denman, but his speeches, all the same, ring majestic with the most sonorous periods. The doctor's notions of honest reporting were, it must be feared, somewhat lax, since he always took care that in the arguments "the Whig dogs should not have the best of it."

It was in 1770 that the struggle between Parliament and the Press reached its climax. The excitement aroused by the North Briton and the exclusion of Wilkes from the House of Commons gave a strong impulse to the power of the Press. Much more was its power enhanced shortly afterwards by the Letters of Junius, which, while they exhibited more than anything, perhaps, since the time of Milton the vigour inherent in the English language, had the more practical effect of revolutionizing the whole tone of English journalism, and leading it to assume that position of independence and influence which we see to-day. From these causes a keener interest began to be manifested in the proceedings of Parliament. The London printers, braving the risks, strove to satisfy the popular craving, and were summoned to the Bar of the House for breach of the privileges of the Commons. We all know the result. The printers who surrendered and begged pardon on their knees were discharged. Those who failed to surrender were ordered into custody, but, casting themselves upon the City, the Lord Mayor and aldermen threw their protecting ægis over them, by holding it illegal for the Parliament to arrest a printer within the City boundaries unless the Speaker's warrant was countersigned by the Lord Mayor. His Lordship and one alderman were cast into the Tower, but were released at the end of the session, the City being illuminated in their honour, while the Speaker's messenger was fined and imprisoned. Next session the House of Commons virtually acknowledged itself beaten. Since that time no restraint has been put upon the reporting of proceedings in the House. Moreover, by the verdict of the Court in 1868 for the defendant in the case of Wason v. The Times (for libel), reports of Parliamentary debates are held to be privileged.—Summary.

BAHIA BLANCA RAILWAY.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Dear Sir,

In your enthusiastic leading article of Friday on the above topic, you have allowed your pen to so carry you away, as to have thrown reproach on the collective intellectuality of all, and of some in particular. You go on to say, "In the gay party of friends now dashing over this line, there is not one, nor in the city of Buenos Ayres, nor yet in the whole Republic, is there a man to be found, who ten years ago dreamt of a line to Bahia Blanca." I witness to the contrary. In the train three went, who predicted it twelve years ago, even to the very year. There remains behind in this city, one who said the same, and even lent the Promethean flame which fired to action at the opportune moment. You will thus perceive that this Railway may be the offspring of other events than those attributed.

My sole object in throwing light on the point you obscure may encourage the silent-working members of the community in action, with the knowledge, that though no gold medal or illuminated cards reward that thought or action, their mite, contributed, tells, and is not altogether unperceived.

Yours,

Omega.

EDITOR'S TABLE

We affectionately invite our subscribers, constant, general and casual readers, and advertisers to call on us to-day to inspect the beautiful coloured picture of the Battle of Teb, which we have received from England by the Britannia.

As we surmised, Jupiter Pluvius invited himself to the Bahia Blanca Railway inauguration. The southern sky was very black yesterday, and it must have rained in c. d. p. fashion in that quarter.

As may be seen in another column, the Irish Orphanage is in urgent need of funds. We trust that our opulent countrymen in town and camp will come forward, as they have so often done before, to assist this most deserving institution.

"There was a sound of revelry by night" in Flores on Thursday, when Mr. A. E. Bowen led the fair and accomplished Miss Crowther to the matrimonial altar. His Lordship the Bishop of the Falkland Islands, assisted by the Revd. J. Gybbson Spilsbury, performed the ceremony. The numerous presents to the charming bride were of a very costly and elegant description. We heartily join the numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen in wishing them long life and every happiness and prosperity.

The Prensa gives some curious European news from Rio and Valparaiso. The first is of a fire in Palerusterrow (Paternoster Row) London; several buildings destroyed and loss enormous. The next is that Sir Edward Watkin offered a thousand pounds to anyone who would save Gordon! The telegraph, the newspapers and the Owns, Specials and Occasionals, not excluding our friend Havas, have told more audacious 'crammers' about this Soudan mess than they have ever attempted before. The safest way is to believe nothing—not even half nothing.

According to latest advices, the 'vecinos' are flocking into Bahia Blanca from leagues around, for the fetes today. Where they are all to sleep is the question. Wont the hotel-keepers send them home sadder and poorer men? We wonder how the visitors from town have fared for beds. There are not sleeping cars for one-tenth of them.

The National Theatre was crammed on Thursday night at the debut of the Oliva Zarzuela company, which is rather good. Señorita Linares is a beauty of the most seductive type, and all the "mashers" in the house lost their hearts to her before she was five minutes on the stage.

The Cronista Banquet given at the Skating Rink on Thursday night was an uncommonly jolly affair. Figaro says there were 3,000 speeches made, but we counted 3,250. The dishes were all called after the newspapers of the city. Amongst them was "Mock Turtle Soup á la Standard," most deliciously made. The Skating Rink deserves the most unlimited success this year; and all 'empresarios' of public amusements should follow its hospitable example and open every season with a Press Dinner.

We are glad to hear that Drs. Pirovano and Pastore performed a most successful operation on Dr. Florencio Garrigos on Thursday, and that this estimable gentleman is now much better.

The remains of the late Don Nicolas Anchorena were interred yesterday at 11 a.m. in the Recoleta Cemetary. The luxury displayed in the black velvet and gold trappings of the horses and hearses and grooms and servants was something extraordinary; and for many such lavish outlay over a grave suggested sad reflections. All the men of mark in the city attended the funeral, and there were nearly a hundred carriages in the cortege.

The poet D'Amicis will give his second conference to-morrow night in the Colon Theatre. King Victor Emmanuel will be his theme.

A bootmaker in Calle Cerrito committed suicide yesterday by taking a glass of vitriol. His last words were "what a foolish thing I have done!"

It is thought that Messrs Lasserre's proposal for establishing freezing chambers in the public markets, for keeping meat, fowl, fish, fruit etc, has a good chance of being accepted by the Municipality. This is all right enough; but what is more urgently required is a different system of driving in and killing meat for comsumption. The present system of slaughtering poor tired animals is scandalous, and the result is that the meat eaten by the people of Buenos Aires is positively unfit for human food and would be thrown out of a European market.

The Diario says that one of the fashionable marriages recently arranged has been broken off, and the lovely "novia" has announced her intention to take the veil. 'Souvent femme varie.'

Madame Tauban, the talented lessee of the Variedades Theatre, had a visit from burglars on Thursday night. They stole a lot of jewels, but missed the best of them—40,000$ % worth, which Madame T does not keep in the house.

The Nacional has started a branch office in La Plata, in the Hotel Bruny, the most respectable 'fonda' there.

The hospital at La Plata, inaugurated on Thursday, is TWELVE kilometres from the so called-city. A tin medal for whoever selected the site.

Muy Señores mios.

Como vendedores del acreditado "Especifico de Glycerina" me es grato decirlos, despues de larga esperiencia, que no he encontrado otro remedio igual para la curacion de la "Sarna" y matanza de los "Gusanos."

No daña la lana, al contrario la da fortaleza y brillo.

Muy Señores mios.

Como remedio para la Sarna y los Gusanos, de los tantos que se venden, no conosco alguno tan eficas como el "Especifico de Glycerine" que Vds venden.

Este es mi opinion formado con la esperiencia de muchos años.

EUGENIO G. GAHAN.

Estancia Pereda, Estacion Pinedo, F.C. del Sud, March 30th, 1878.

Messrs Moore & Tudor, Buenos Aires.

Gentlemen,

Many thanks for so promptly sending the "Glycerine Dip." It has saved thousands of animals in this neighbourhood. The news of the instantaneous cure of maggots in our cattle and sheep spread like a camp fire, and our neighbours for leagues round came for "un poco de remedio para probar," but they soon came back for more and would pay any price; they came daily from all quarters, even beyond the Azul; they could not believe the price to be 4$ per lb. out here, the "remedios" they got from the "boticas" being so much more expensive and less effective

We tried the "Glycerine Dip" last year for curing Scab; it answered perfectly; we have this year tried several dips to prove which was the best and cheapest, and believe the "Glycerine Dip" to be the best and cheapest by a long way. We intend to use no other dip for the future.

Yours truly
W. B. GRANT

Dear Sirs,

I have much pleasure in stating that I cured all my flocks this season with the "Golden Leaf Extract" and found the result highly satisfactory, and in future do not intend to use any other dip.

After first using the "Golden Leaf," I found it such a perfect cure for Scab that I recommended it to several of my neighbours who have all proved it equally good.

Yours truly

Prepared by LANMAN & KEMP,
An infallible remedy for the cure of all diseases of The Throat,

Used perseveringly together with the
ANACAHUITA PECTORAL,
It has effected surprising cures in many desperate cases of Consumption
and other Lung Diseases.

STIMULATE THE FALLING HAIR.
If your hair is thinning out, remember that underneath the bare scalp there exist the germs for another growth, which requires a stimulant to bring it though the epidermis and produce luxurious tresses. Apply the Oriental Tonic often, using the hairbrush vigorously in order to excite the absorbing pores, so that they may receive it, and its effects, will prove beneficial. The experience of all those using the Tonic, is that it not only strengthens the hair, but also increases it. In warm climates where ladies inadvertently have recourse to deleterious oils, it will be found superior to dress the hair, imparting to it lustre, elasticity and beuty.
It therefore follows that speedy and permanent cures effected by this great remedy in all affection of the throat, chest and lungs, provided that the disease has not been allowed to progress beyond the reach of human aid. If a spoonful of Lanman & Kemp's Pure Cod Liver Oil is mixed with two spoonfuls of the Pectoral and taken, the best possible results will be obtained.

Cedulas A	100⅛
Cedulas E	89⅛
Cedulas F	85⅝
National Bank Shares....	139
Nat. Bank Certificados..	48½

There was a pause in the share market this morning and only one operation of 200 shares was effected at 139 for the end of the month. There were sellers at 138½, but no buyers, and the market closed with a very weak and depressed feeling. Some large holders have evidently sold out, and numerous shares are offering from many quarters. The large operators have not yet entered the market to buy for the end of next month, and they probably await a further fall to begin operations. The snag-up in the market is chilling, but strange to say, there is great activity both in the Scrip of the Bank and in Cedulas E.
Over 700 Certificates were sold cash at 49 and 48⅝, and strong and numerous buyers surround the ring. This great activity in the Scrip shews that outsiders are sweeping the paper off the market. Six hundred were sold for the end of May at 50, but these operations were not marked on the board as the Camara Syndical will only allow a quotation for cash and for the end of the month with regard to transactions in Certificates. The Scrip is growing in favor and is firm.
A sudden spurt seized the Cedula market, owing to heavy purchases from certain very strong quarters; meantime, the rumor has become current that the King is letting go by the hundred thousand. A few thousand E changed hands at 89½ for cash. Operations for the end of the month embraced 230,000 at 89⅝-½; nearly 400,000 were sold for the end of May; rates opened at 89½, and closed at 89⅝. The Series F is quoted 85⅝ for cash and 85½ for the end of the month; little business done.
There are many loud complaints owing to the stand-still occasioned in very many transactions by the removal of the Provincial Government Offices to La Plata. To-day a leading English capitalist went to his escribano to finish a land transaction arranged a month ago; the only things left in the escribania were a few old chairs, and the escribano informed him with tears in his eyes that all his documents, deeds, books, accounts, ink-bottles and pens were locked up in a big box in the Once de Setiembre. This snag-up dates from the 14th inst. and many parties are anxious to know how long it will last. The office of the escribano in the new Capital is not finished, and 17 men are hard at work day and night putting up doors and windows; other public offices are more or less in the same sad plight.
Mr. B. Huevo has sold half a manzana of land situated in the new Capital La Plata for 600,000 $; a high figure, which shows the great rise in the value of property in the new city since the removal of the Government. Chacras are in steady demand, and Italian chacareros are leaving the suburbs of the city to start in the new Capital; they pay 4,000 $ per square—a stiff price.
The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—
Cedulas—
For cash E 4,000 at 89½
For April 30th E 230,000 at 89⅝-½
For May 31st E 380,000 at 89½-⅝
For cash F 4,000 at 85⅝
For April 30th F 40,000 at 85½
Sales, 658,000
National Bank Shares—
For April 30th 200 at 139
National Bank Certificates, 30 o/o paid—
For cash 750 at $49-48½
There is little or nothing doing in exchange circles; all the bank managers are now in Bahia Blanca, and banking business is also restricted. The exchange rates shew no change, 47⅛ drawers, and 47⅜ takers. Little business can be anticipated for the present.
The money market rules easy, and there appears to be abundance of paper on the Bolsa. Rates are easier and will continue so up to the end of the month, as the liquidation has fairly begun. Discounts outside are easy, and the two official banks have been liberal during the week.
The rain this morning interfered with business in the produce market. Arrivals of produce continue steady, and there is no change in prices. The barraqueros are buying on a small scale; Frenchmen are the principal purchasers. The export of wool and sheepskins to France up to date eclipses the figures of former years.
The steamer Nord has arrived with a further cargo of wooden houses and churches for La Plata; some of these wooden houses go to small towns in the distant partidos.
Mr. Anchorena's funeral was largely attended this morning; one hundred carriages formed the cortége.
Mr. Freire, head of the Land Office, has published a notice that all land auctions of the Government will be held in future in the new capital La Plata. The auction announced for the 30th April will thus take place in the new city; it looks as if all Buenos Aires were going to La Plata, escribanos, lawyers, land business and all.
Mr. Martiniano Sanchez, who has been appointed manager of the branch of the Provincial Bank in Patagones will leave on the 1st of May with his family and penates in the fine Platense steamer Pomona. The House, which Colonel Murga formerly occupied will be taken for the Bank.
The Provincial Bank Board was very liberal to-day; half a million national dollars were discounted. The National Bank discounted 250,000 m/n. The money market is very easy.
A new Frozen Meat Company is talked of in the market; the company is being formed by capitalists here. This is a good sign; we want a dozen frozen meat companies.
Several contracts of capones for graseria are rumored; there is some difficulty in securing fat animals.
Mr. Travers, representative of the Gérard Electric Light Company of Paris, expects a consignment of large machines to illumine several streets and private dwellings.
A crowd of friends accompanied Messrs Von Eicken, Lynen and others to the mole to-day. A great number of German merchants and others left to-day in the General Werder and Petropolis. We wish then all pleasant voyage and speedy return to the Plate.

The payment of the large debt due by the Municipality to the Old Gas Company appears as far of as ever. The special committee appointed continues liquidating the accounts of the floating debt, but the shareholders of the Gas Company are tired waiting.
Advices from New York report an exceptionally easy money market. Money on call is quoted at 1½, a low rate not witnessed before. The accumulation and abundance of capital in New York, according to the London financial journals, is extraordinary. The gross receipts of the Pennsylvania Railway Co. for 1883 amounted to the fabulous sum of 21,500,000 £ stg.—an amount, according to the Economist, without parallel either in the New or Old World, no joint-stock company having ever controlled so large an income. Argentine railways, Public Works, revenue, &c, are indeed very small concerns alongside this monumental railway enterprise.
The saladero faena of this Province lingers on; about 80,000 head have been slaughtered up to date, and the close of the season is already at hand.
Sovereigns and Napoleons are at 1½ prem.; Condors and Argentinos at 1½.
A small operation in exchange reported to-day at 47⅞.
The share market ruled dull in the evening; some sales were effected at 138½ and the market closed at 138¾. In Cedulas little or nothing to report; firm at 89½.
The Tribuna Nacional has an excellent article on the negotiation of the Thirty Million Loan. There is no doubt that the business is a great financial victory for Dr. Plaza and a triumph of the credit of the Nation. We must all bear in mind that at the beginning of the year the majority in the market thought the negotiations of these loans unfeasible. Then we doubted the success of the National Bank loan, and nobody dreamt that the Government would be able to negotiate the thirty million loan for another year or two. Viewed in this light these negotiations are a triumph of the credit of the Nation, and there is little or no necessity of drawing comparisons of quotations with Chilian and Brazilian Bonds.
From the Plaza Once de Setiembre we have the following:—

4,000 @ of wool
2,381 bags of wheat

Advices from Brazil state that the Government is pushing ahead with great activity the new railway lines in the south of the Empire. Eight thousand men are engaged in those works. Brazil and the Argentine Republic are taking the lead of this continent in railway enterprise.
The London financial journals contain favorable notices and the Money Market Review has a long and flattering article on the flourishing condition of the Buenos Aires Gas Company. Sound management is the secret of the Company's success; all the Gas Companies of this city are doing a roaring business which is daily increasing.
In the month of May the branches of the Provincial Bank, decreed lately, will be opened in Patagones and Carmen de Areco. This is the best of news for both towns; the Bank should have branches in every town of the province. The branch in Patagones meets an old want, and will do a large business; everybody on the Rio Negro looks forward to the starting of the Bank branch with anxiety, as down there everybody is in want of money.
The issue of Series F up to date exceeds four million patacons; the stock of late has been thrown in small amounts only on the market.
Telegrams from Tucuman announce the departure of Mr Mendez, en route for London, where he intends to offer two sugar factories for sale. This business is estimated at no less than three million patacons; this figure shews the growth of industrial wealth in the province; sugar machinery is going steadily up to the North, and the industry is assuming large proportions—so much so that already there is not sufficient cane for the crushing power of the factories.
Mr. Agote, the talented head of the Credit Office, has addressed a note to Dr. Plaza complimenting him on the success of the Thirty Million Loan.
Mr. Luiz A. d'Abreu has favored us with a splendid map of the port of Bahia Blanca; it is well got up and reflects credit on the publisher, Mr

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We find the following in the London Globe. It is hard on Mosoo, but as true as gospel. Our mercurial friends like change; and they have as perfect a right to like it as we have to dislike it:—"One would almost have thought that Frenchmen must be tired by this time of tinkering up Constitutions, which are always warranted to go for ever, but collapse the first time the require winding up. There are, nevertheless, 110 deputies who wish to appoint a constituent assembly to devise once more "institutions harmonising with the national will and respecting universal suffrage." A French Constitution which harmonised with anything and respected anything would, at any rate, be a novelty—for six weeks."

The Government has ratified a contract made by the National Telegraph Department with Messrs. Salustiano Galup 6 Hijos for the construction of a double telegraph wire from Monte Caseros to Bella Vista, touching at Curuzú-Cuatia, Mercedes and San Roque. Price, $70 m/n per kilometre. Also another branch from La Paz to San José de Feliciano, on the same conditions.

The following gentlemen have taken out letters of citizenship before Judge Ugarriza: Mr George Temperley, Don José Leoparto, Don José Campodonico, and Don Manuel Monteros—the first being an Englishman, the second and third Italians and the fourth Spanish. They are now naturalised Argentine citizens.

The Municipal Engineers have sent in their report on the city theatres. They say there are many dangerous points about the Teatro Nacional.

There are signs that Congress is about to begin its annual labours. Several Senators and Deputies have arrived, and the Senate holds its first preliminary sitting to-day.

A new evening paper is announced—the Sud America—with Messrs. C. Pellegrini, L. V. Lopez, R. S. Peña and Delfin Gallo as editors. It ought to succeed with such a talented staff, unless the too many cooks proverb come into play.

The estancieros are at last feebly taking up the Frozen Mutton question in the usual easy manner. Yesterday there was to have been a big meeting to discuss this all important question, but the rain, if it did not stop the meeting, prevented us hearing the results.

The La Plata Club "gives a ball to-night, and the Marina Club will begin the winter season with another on May 3rd.

The Argentine Minister in London has received from Miss Elena Saunders of the County of Devonshire a note informing him of the existence, in that county and in the place in which she resides, of a young Argentine named Alberto Etcheverry, whose father is dead. Miss Saunders wishes to discover if the child has a mother living, or friends willing to take him under their protection.

The young German clerk who blew his brains out in Messrs. Malmann's house on Tuesday night left a letter explaining why he killed himself, but it has not been published.

Figaro's critique on the 'velada' in the Colon Theatre on Wednesday night was awfully funny. It calls the proceedings a 'velorio' (a wake) instead of a 'velada'; and says that the three victims of the fiasco were Shakespeare, Cervantes and D'Amicis. It turns out that the portrait of Cervantes in the Diario was one of the Mahdi, hastily touched up for the occasion.

The snag-up of merchandise to be forwarded is tremendous in Córdoba. Some goods have been lying in the station there for three months. The progress of the country has floored our railways.

Wringing off door-knockers is coming into fashion here, although it is forty years since it went out of vogue in Europe. Three fellows were arrested yesterday for this offence, one of them for wrenching off the nickle knocker from the hall door of the residence of the Rt. Honble the Lord Mayor.

"Caspita!" Telegrams say that the Nord America has reached Gibraltar, in twelve days and one hour from the Plate!! Such speed. The famous Oregon could hardly do better. Fancy the Nord America flying through the ocean at the same rate of speed as the inauguration and unlimited Loo train yesterday to Bahia Blanca.

We read in the Courrier de la Plata the following article:—"A new and very large pass has been discovered in the Cordillera. This important discovery, which will certainly be of great effect on the future of a country like Patagonia, has been made by two young naval officers, M. M. Moyano and Loqui, and the Minister of war has been informed of it. The expedition left Santa Cruz the 30th of November, going towards the South-West, and its object was to obtain exact information with regard to the sources of the rivers Gallegos and Coile. The expedition was composed of 14 persons, and 60 horses, together with all instruments necessary for observations, etc. The explorers went up to the very source of the Gallegos. The length of this river is no less than 50 geographical leagues. This journey from one ocean to the other was exceedingly difficult, on account of the forests of bushes and thorns that cover those undulating grounds. On the 28th of January, after 60 days' hard marches, the troops came to the coast of the Pacific; having at their right hand side the snow-white tops of the Cordillera which they could distinguish in the distance. To whom does this coast belong, situated at 60 leagues from the Atlantic, one which could open greater communications than those of the Straits? We shall not give our opinion on the subject, but it is certain, that, up to this, no one ever heard of this pass, for we cannot find a mention of it in the treaty with Chili. This recent and important discovery will perhaps compel the Argentine Republic to make another treaty with Chili to settle its limits. M. M. Moyano and Loqui have rendered a great service to Geography, and we hope that this discovery will not be an apple of discord between the two nations."

Todo el mundo conoce ya la citada seccion por ser una de las mejores por sus ricos y abundantes pastos y buenos aguadas, y la prueba es que hoy dia es la mas poblada de todas las secciones, siendo los principales pobladores los Sres. Antonio Gumbaicores, Newton, Torquist, Jaime Cibils, Pedro Saubidet, Drysdale y muchos otros cuya lista seria larga á detallar.

Para los que duden del valor de las tierras, les aconsejamos que lean los diarios de Nueva Zelandia (Auckland) y Australia, donde campos como estos se venden á 5 patacones el acre, que equivalen a 34000 $f treinta y cuatro mil patacones la legua cuadrada, y podran ver que los campos se venden alli hasta 13½ millones la legua.

Ademas les recordamos las ultimas ventas de la Oficina de Tierras de lo Provincia donde se han vendido campos en peores condiciones y distante 130 leguas de un puerto, a 54000 $ legua.

No queremos insistir en mayores demostraciones sobre el porvenir de las tierras de este país: cada uno debe saber lo que hace.
